This is the following screen where you choose what you're gonna do first on the app. You can access old projects to practice or finish them, create a new project, and access the settings page with all the utilities to select the settings that'll make your app format the best for each individual. Each can be accessed simple by tapping on which button you need, and a following screen to correspond with each button.

I chose to show the settings page that is accessed by the bottom button of the previous screen. These settings will remain the same until you access them again to change for each projects.
