

James is getting ready for his big promotion speech next week but no matter how much he practices he can never remember what he wants to say

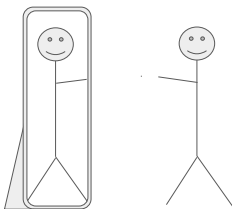

His kids found this app that helps speeches or lets you input key points and gives you good ways of turning them into a speech

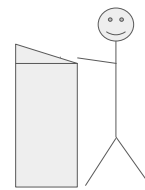

He began to put in his key points that he wanted to cover and the application spit out a well designed speech

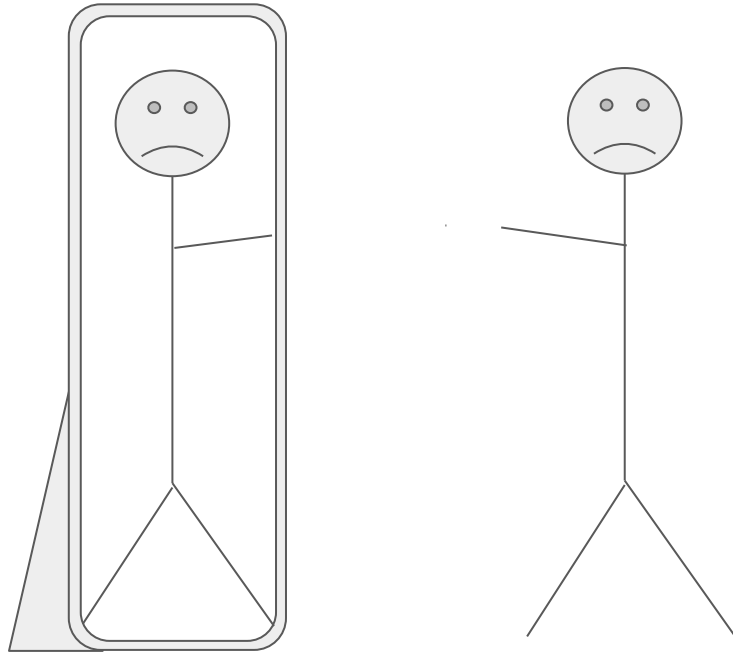

Then the app gave him ways to remember what he wanted to say

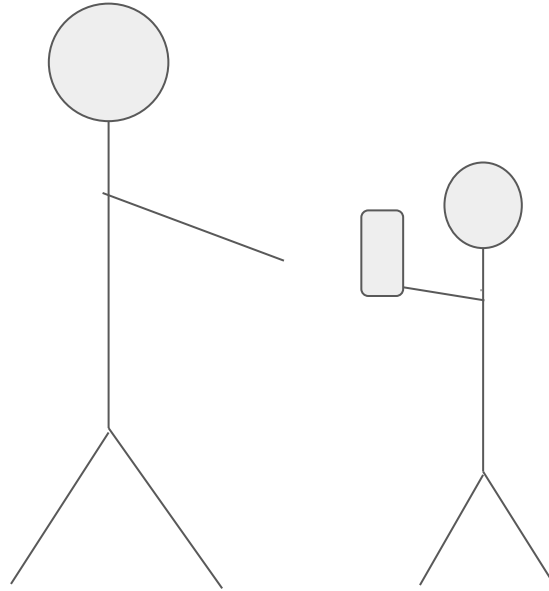

He kept using the app to help with the speech and by the end of the week he was ready to give the speech

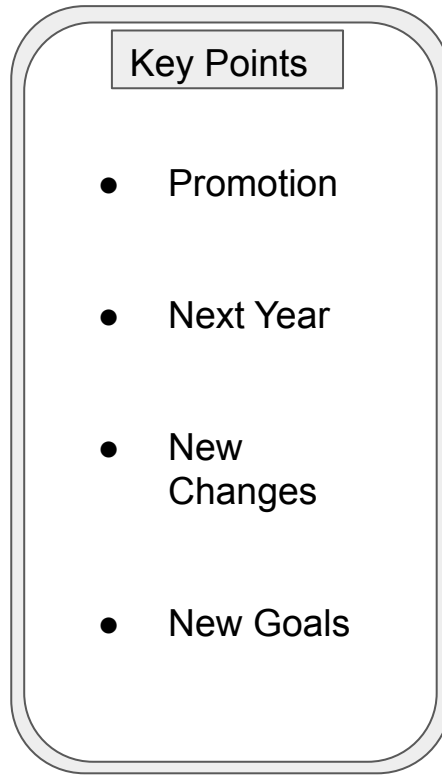

Then when the day came he gave his first speech as CEO and many more after that

Ever since graduating with a degree in theatrics, Phoenix has had a very busy life. With this busy life comes very little time to rehearse his lines properly, this has been negatively affecting his work performance.

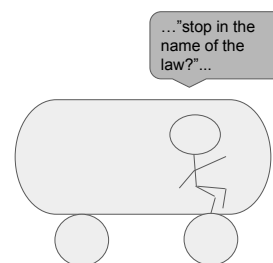

Recently on set, Phoenix noticed one of his coworkers was reciting lines perfectly and decided to ask them how they are able to get their lines down so easily despite having so many other things on their plate.

Zar Wars, opening scene

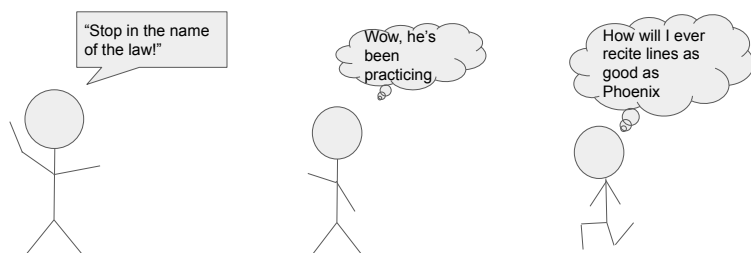

N: A long time ago in a galaxy far far away...

P: Hey what's all that about?

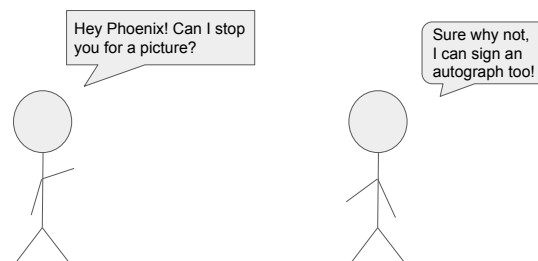

That is when Phoenix's co-star showed him the app that lets him import, upload, or save all of his scripts or speeches, with this app he is able to pull up his lines whenever needed to rehearse or share them. Now Phoenix can incorporate rehearsing into his life easily.

Now, even when doing something simple such as driving to the store, Phoenix can still practice his lines, since he is driving, and it is dangerous to be focused on something else and drive, he is using the read-aloud feature. Which reads the text back to him in increments and allows him to repeat it.

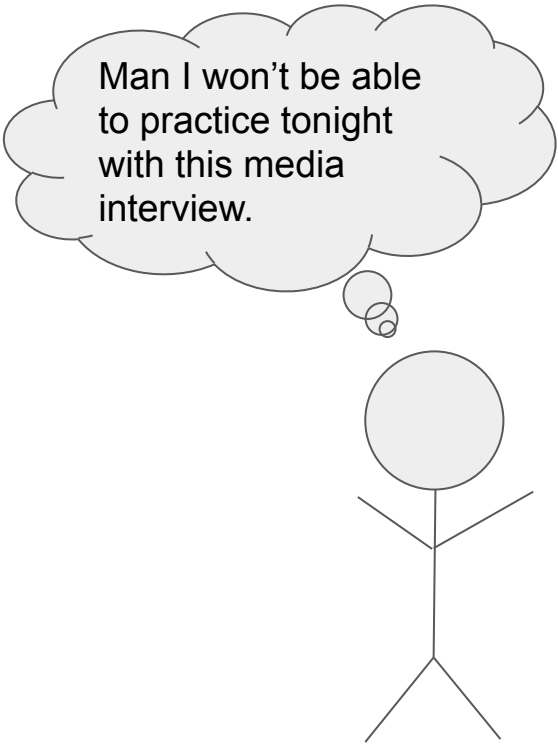

Now Phoenix has seen a significant boost in his performance at work, this plus the fact that he has more time on his hands has contributed to him being in a more positive mood.

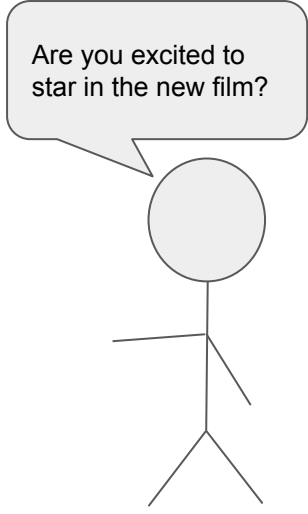

Phoenix can now do more things like interact with fans and relax without having to stress over memorizing his part in the script.

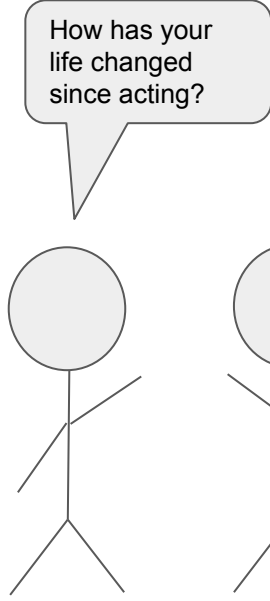

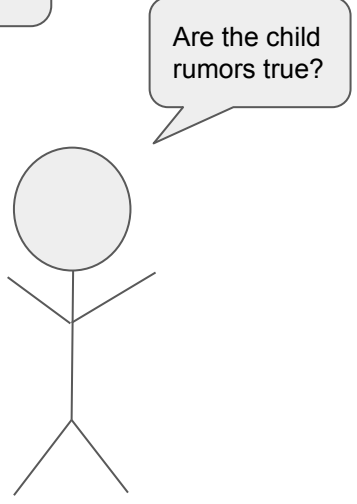

Man I won't be able to practice tonight with this media interview.

Are you excited to star in the new film?

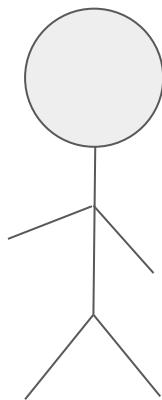

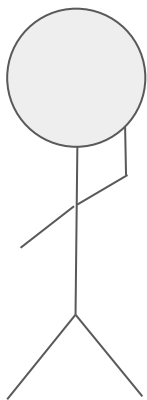

How has your life changed since acting?

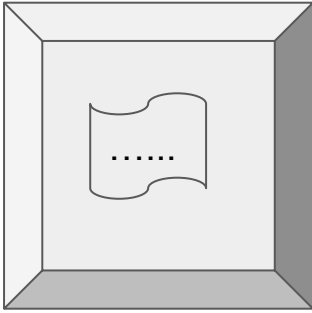

Are the child rumors true?

STRESS

Inez is a city council member for Sacramento. She is in charge of organizing the topic lists for discussion and conducting the introduction speech at each meeting. But, as an elderly woman, she has been very stressed lately as the meetings have been happening more frequently, giving her less time to memorize all of her information.

She spends lots of time with her grandkids, who are always on their phones, and they always teach her new things about technology. They help her even more lately since she got a new smartphone for Christmas.

Rebecca Nader by Reagan Gooch

Rebecca has been so busy with assignments and internship she hasn't had enough time to prepare for her upcoming debate. She needs something that will help her remember what she needs to know and fast!

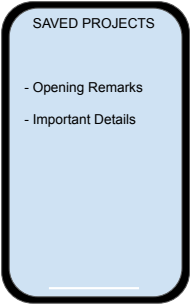

Rebecca finds a app that can help her memorize everything she needs to know so she can be fully prepared.

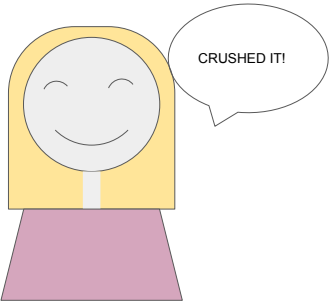

Rebecca opens the app and starts a new project which she names "opening remarks". For this she chooses to enter her opening remarks and practice using the fill in the blank tool.

When Rebecca is starting to feel comfortable with her opening remarks she saves her progress and creates a new project called "important details for debate" for this she chooses to memorize with flashcards.

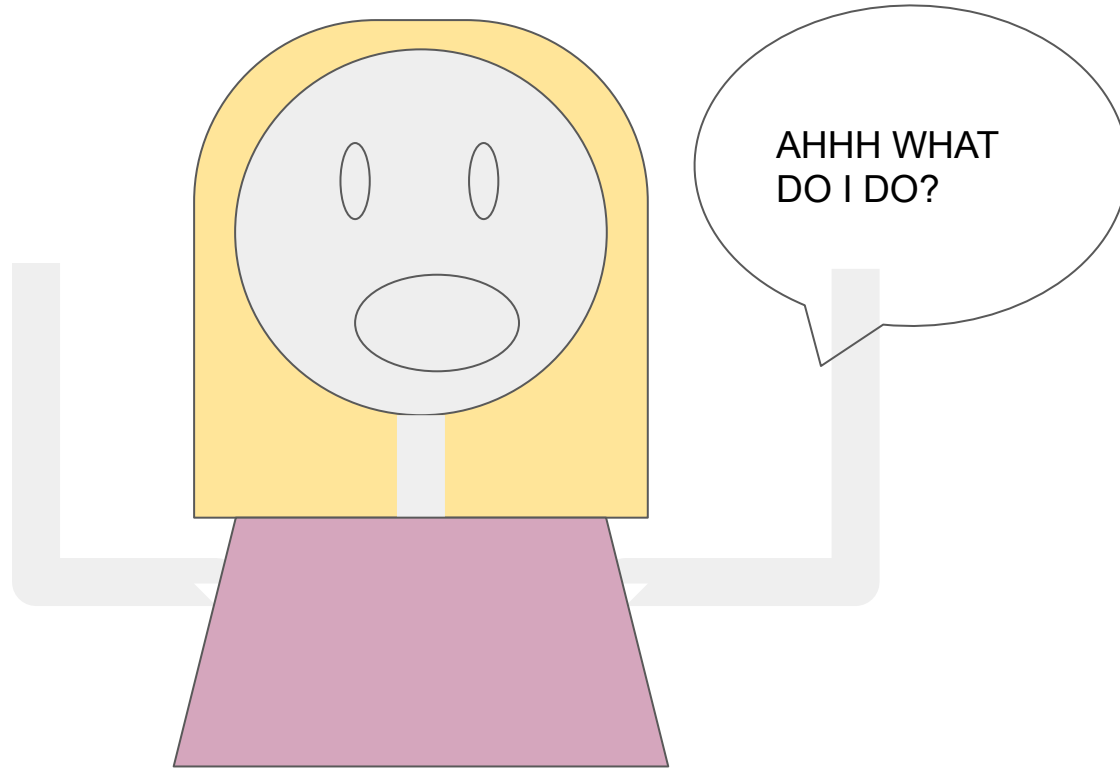

When Rebecca is starting to feel comfortable with her important details she saves her progress and comes back to her saved projects here and there before the debate. She saves her progress each time so she knows when she is fully prepared and knows all she needs to Rebecca absolutely dominates her debate and wins because she was able to efficiently memorize all the information she needed.
